Fall Occult List

1. Ali Puli [attributed]; Englished by J.W. Hamilton-Jones [translator]. The Epistles of Ali Puli (circa 1700 AD). London: John M. Watkins, 1951. First Edition Thus. Tight, bright, and unmarred. Bound in blue cloth with gilt spine titling. Little wear to extremities. No foxing. xiii, 159 pages, with one unnumbered leaf of plates (frontispiece, portrait). Edition limited to 450 copies only, of which 250 are for sale. No dust jacket. Very Good+. Hardcover. (#9648) $100.00

Ali Puli, or Alipili, is the attributed author of a number of 17th-century alchemical and hermetic texts, however doubted as a fabrication in occult science by many including A.E. Waite. Ali Puli was likely the nom de plume for Johann Otto von Hellwig (or von Hellwig), and the Centrum naturae concentratum manuscript – formerly owned and used by J.W. Hamilton-Jones for this 1951 translation into English. The text, however, is foundational in terms of Ali Puli's success in his quest for the philosopher's stone. Hamilton-Jones, was a well-known Freemason, Theosophist, and member of the Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia (S.R.I.A.), who published a number of important translations of alchemical and hermetic texts, amongst which was the first English-language edition of Dee's "Hieroglyphic Monad."

2. Anon. Sumatran Batak divination book [pustaha]. Indonesia, Early 20th century. Unique. Twelve (two-sided) panel concertina fold; fastened on handcarved alim (or agarwood) tree-bark original boards; inscribed and drawn on smoothed and pressed alim tree-bark; 4.75 x 39" (unfolded); illus. Handwritten in red and black ink pigments. Boards stained with natural pigments, in remarkable condition, less one split in bark panel. An exceptional and critical book for Indonesia history and culture. Very Good. Hardcover. (#9148) $1,200.00

The 'pustaha' [named by the Batak people of interior province of northern Sumatra, Indonesia] are manuscript books constructed and composed by their "datu" or magicians and healers. Origins of the pustaha remain somewhat clouded to non-indigenous research, although, records of provenance date to the 18th century. The Batak people settled mainly in the Lake Toba region of North Sumatra, and included three dominant dialects: Toba, Angkola, and Mandailing.

*The books themselves are frequently made with alim tree-bark; written and illustrated with other natural ink pigments. The pustaha is significant for the Batak, as the texts are idiosyncratic to the datu, meaning they are didactic tools for apprentices, but also for members of the community to interpret important decisions and advise on community issues, as reconciled by the datu. The books are often written in note-like script. The script is almost illegible for most members of the community, and indecipherable to Western scholars, however the syllable script is thought to be derived from East Indian Sanskrit or to some scholars, Indian Palava script. Many contemporary pustaha were made and sold to tourists of the region, as well. The content of the books vary, but generally are divination books, including diagnosis of illness, protective/destructive magic, and acts of cult. Many of the books are also astrological in nature and contain solar and lunar charts and tables, and in the case of this particular pustaha, which contains animistic figures. This book features four carved lizards in low relief on one of the boards, which is associated with fertility and fertility rites. The verso has a carved image of star or a floral symbol. Many of the figurative illustrations in the book [a child] [a goddess figure with serpents] [star], also allude to creation myth, as the 'tendi' manifestation of 'life' and 'death' represented these symbols. The text is inscribed and illustrated on both sides of the bark. Although colonized by the Dutch government in the 19th century, many Batak people retain indigenous religious beliefs, although increasingly marginalized. Voorhoeve, P. 3. Astaro [Organization] Foundation. Astaro degree lessons and teaching pamphlets; and ephemera collection. Los Angeles, CA: Astaro Foundation, 1965-1970. First Edition. Tight, bright, and unmarred. Staplebound in original wraps. Collection includes:

2018 FALL OCCULT LIST

Complete oblong set of first degree lessons, Lessons 1-22; "Finding Your Place in the Golden Age," You and Astará," "Lodestar: Astará's Light on the Mysteries" [Autumn, 1970, Vol.1, No.2], a small collection of membership correspondence and pamphlets. Very Good+. Staplebound Wraps. (#9502) $375.00

Astará was formed in 1951 by Robert Chaney (1913–2006) and Earlyne Chaney (d. 2006), both former Spiritualists. Robert Chaney had been active at Camp Chesterfield and instrumental in the founding of the Spiritualist Episcopal Church. While still a Spiritualist, he became interested in Theosophy and began to profess a belief in reincarnation, which in the 1940s was still a minority idea within Spiritualist circles and which met with strong disapproval at the camp. Earlyne, as a child clairvoyant, had held conversations with a being she called simply "Father." When she asked his name, he replied "Kut-Hu-Mi." When she later discovered Koot Hoomi in Theosophical literature, he revealed that he had chosen her for special hierarchical work—to write the teachings of the ancient wisdom for the new age. After resigning from their church in Eaton Rapids, Michigan, the Chaney's moved to Los Angeles, California, and began their independent endeavor.

"Astará's Degree Lessons, the Book of Life, are hailed by many lifelong students of the arcane and mystical as this century's outstanding achievement in spiritual instruction. The Degree Lessons are available to all members of the public. They have been channeled through Robert and Earlyne Chaney for many years from Masters of the divine hierarchy, teaching ancient Wisdom from the times of the Mystery Schools of antiquity. They light the way for the seeker of spiritual evolution. They reveal the arcane soul pageant from before birth, through life, death and the afterlife."--Astará [online, 2018]

4. Baring-Gould, Sabine. The Book of Were-wolves. London: Smith, Elder and Co., 1865. First Edition. Recased in half red leather and cloth boards, elaborately decorated in gilt on the front panel and gilt lettering with black title band. Very little wear to extremities, only some foxing on beginning pages and on frontispiece engraving which does not diminish image, otherwise tight, bright, and unmarred, an exceptional copy. Includes paste down of original gilt, ornamental spine on rear papers. Has former owner signature on two pages. xi, 8vo., 266 pages, 1 unnumbered leaf of plates, advertisement in rear. Fine. Half Calf. (#9461) $9,500.00

A survey of the myths and legends concerning lycanthropy from ancient times to the Victorian era. Rev. Sabine Baring-Gould (1834-1924) of Lew Trenchard in

Devon, England, was an Anglican priest, hagiographer, antiquarian, novelist, folk song collector and eclectic scholar. His bibliography consists of more than 1240 publications. In one of the most cited texts on lycanthropy, "Baring-Gould treats the phenomenon of the werewolf as a psychological aberration, as essentially a delusional state. Baring-Gould treks into the shadowy world of crimes vaguely connected to werewolves, including serial murders, grave desecration, and cannibalism." (Coleman) The book was formerly owned by Dillon Hampden Carrington (b.1916), supernatural book collector. At first search, no copies of this edition held in US institutions (Worldcat). Recased with a nice bit of binding work using original gilt decoration of a wolf in a diamond shape and also includes the original spine pasted in the back of the book.

5. Baskin, Leonard. Imps, Demons, Hobgoblins, Witches, Fairies and Elves. New York: Pantheon, 1984. First Edition. Tight, bright, and unmarred. DJ bright and clean. 6. Bremer, Uwe [artist, printer]. [PSI]. Germany [Berlin?], c.1972. Limited Edition. Single leaf etching [intaglio] with color aquatint on Rives BFK, edition is 110 of 120, signed and dated by artist. 11.25"h x 7.25"w (image), 24.75"h x 17.75"w (sheet), unframed. Near Fine. (#9476) $350.00

"Uwe Bremer, born 1940, is one of the most prominent German graphic artists due to his fantastical compositions combined with fine-nerved ruling symbolically acting geometric body and surface relationships on mostly bright ground. In his work, elements of old star and sky maps, symbioses of mechanical, organic, galactic and scriptural structures, which are thematically related to science fiction and horror literature, are whimsically combined and create occult levels of meaning." Part of the published book: "Werkverzeichnis der Radierungen 1964-1973." (Catalogue raisonné). Uwe Bremer is also an important proponent of "Phantastische Malerei" in Germany during the 1970-1980s.

Red cloth boards, black in decorative elements, gilt lettering, brown endpages, frontispiece. 8vo. xxiv, 319pp [+ ip ]. Illus. (b/w plates). Very Good. Hardcover. (#9538) $450.00

Frontispiece and 15 b/w full page plates, plus various illustrations in text. According to Penzer's bibliography, this copy is a first edition in the second issue binding. Wonderful collection of ancient Indian tales, said to have been recounted by a "baital" (mischevious spirit or vampire) to the King Vikram of the title. They were collected and published by famed explorer and author, Sir Richard F. Burton. Overall, a very presentable copy of a book that is increasingly uncommon in any condition.

8. Chumbley, Andrew. Azoëtia a Grimoire of the Sabbatic Craft. The Sethos Edition. Chelmsford, UK: Xoanon Publishing Ltd., 2002. First Edition Thus/Limited Edition. Minimal shelf/edge wear, else tight, bright, and unmarred. Green cloth boards, gilt lettering and decorative elements, brown endpages, frontispiece. 8vo. 366pp. Illus. (b/w plates). Glossary. Numbered limited edition of 484, this being 443. Fine. Hardcover. (#9422) $1,500.00

"Being a full and accurate transcription, compiled and amended by the author from the original manuscript of 'The Book of Magical Quintessence'". Originally published by in 1992 in a limited edition of 300 copies, Azoetia or 'The Book of the Magical Quintessence' has emerged as one of the most sought-after new magical works and is widely considered one of the foundational texts of the Sabbatic Craft. This is a particularly handsome copy of the 10th anniversary Sethos Edition.

9. Crowley, Aleister (here as George Archibald Bishop). White Stains: The Literary Remains of George Archibald Bishop, A Neuropath of the Second Empire [Fine Binding]. Amsterdam: Leonard Smithers, 1898. Limited Edition/First Edition. Minor shelf/edge wear, minor sporadic foxing, owner bookplate at front pastedown, in fine binding, else tight, bright, and unmarred. Excerpts from several poems appear in another clandestine classic, Raped on the Railway (c. 1899)."*

Printed in Amsterdam, on hand-made paper, in a limited edition of 100 copies. Many of these are said to have been destroyed by British customs officials in 1924. It is well known in the trade that most of the run was unnumbered and most appear so, making this "3" just that much more pleasing.

10. Cummins, Maureen; Nicole Cooley [author]. Salem Lessons. High Falls, New York: Maureen Cummins, 2010. Limited Edition. Concertina, or "theatre in the round" multi-folded artist book, printed on Johannot paper, with end pages made from Belgique, a handmade sheet. Text was printed offset with titling in letterpress; accompanying images were silkscreen printed. Bound into vintage writing slates, housed in a black linen box with stamped symbols. 45 pp., 7x8". Edition of 30, this being copy _____. Signed by artist and author. Fine in Fine Archival Box. Hardcover. (#9247) $2,500.00

"Salem Lessons" was printed and produced by Maureen Cummins in the Winter and Spring of 2010, with typographic assistance from Kathy McMillan. The project is a collaboration between Cummins and the poet Nicole Cooley, based on research done at the American Antiquarian Society. The cycle of poems was created by Cooley specifically for this book; the accompanying images are from a penmanship book kept by a Salem, MA boy, Josiah Peele, during the years 1808 and 1809. The project traces the psychic reverberations of the Salem witch trials upon succeeding generations. It address--as all examinations of the trials do--our own modern time and situation. There are thirteen poems altogether, representing both the accusers and the accused, survivors and the condemned, but focusing on the trials and the treatment of women. -- from the colophon and website.

11. de Saint André, François; Robert-Marc Despilly [publisher]. Lettres de Mr. de St. André, conseiller-medecin ordinaire du Roy; a quelques-uns de ses amis, au sujet de la magie, des malefices et des sorciers: Où il rend raison des effets les plus surprenants qu'on attribue ordinairement aux démons; & fait voir que ces intelligences n'y ont souvent aucune part; & que tout ce qu'on leur impute, qui ne se trouve ni dans l'Ancien, ni dans le Nouveau-Testament, ni autorisé par l'Eglise, est naturel ou supposé. Paris: Chez Robert-Marc Despillay, libraire, 1725. First Edition. Tight, bright, and unmarred, superb copy. Bound in contemporary mottled calf, gilt decorated spine with raised bands. 12mo., 8 unnumbered pages, 446 pages, 2 unnumbered advertising pages. With marble endpapers and marble fore-edge and imprinted with illustrated devices. Very Good+. Full Calf. (#9292) $650.00

François de Saint André was medical counsel to King Louis XIV and author of treatises on various diseases and remedies. He wrote extensively about magic, spells and sorcerers, to prove that "the possessed and the sorcerers are often sick people in the midst of obsessions." He also describes the role of the Church, as not participating in the imagination and popularization of sorcery, demonology, and magic on the minds of the masses. In his mind, if the practice of subduing witchcraft is not in the Bible, then the Church should not endorse a position. Rather than inflating the notion of superstition, de Saint André suggests people be treated by medicines for their possessions. Scarce edition, excellent source on Rationalism and instances of early magic, occult, and sorcery in the 17th-18th century. This copy is in splendid condition with a lovely binding and endpapers.

Vol II: 350pp + xvivpp black and white photo insert at center. Black and white line illustrations. First American edition. Very Good+. Softcover in slipcase. (#9666) $350.00

Janet Farrar (b. 1950) was initiated into Alexandrian witchcraft by the tradition's founders, Alex and Maxine Sanders in the early 1970s. She met Stewart Farrar (1916 – 2000) in the group, and the two went on to marry and co-author a number of books on witchcraft and modern neo-paganism. This is the "first edition thus" - in two volumes - of the work, published by Herman Slater of Magickal Child in 1984. The set reproduces the text of two books which were originally published separately under different titles by Robert Hale in the UK: the first volume as "Eight Sabbats for Witches" and the second as "The Witches' Way."

pasted onto green card. Very good. Unbound. Very Good+. (#9660) $1,250.00

Excellent series of highly original, signed Exlibris prints by painter and graphic illustrator Karl Hugo Frech, [Karl Naughty] (1883-1945). While Frech's are probably the most notable Slovakian bookplates ever produced, they remain almost completely unstudied and unknown. Frech's bookplates received numerous commissions from many important figures of Bratislava (formerly Pressburg), among them being Dr. Ovidius Faust, archivist and museum director and Karl Benyovszky. Incredibly, in bookplate scholarship, Frech's name is virtually unrecorded.

Frech was born in Stuttgart, Germany. He studied lithography at G.F. Schreiber Art Institute in Esslingen, and between 1903 and 1905 he attended the Academy of Applied Arts in Stuttgart, where he later worked as an illustrator and graphic artist. In 1914 he married and moved to Bratislava (formerly Pressburger), where he spent most of his life. He made his living as a painter and a graphic artist; he was also member of the Pressburger Kunstverein. Although he contributed illustrations to the Pressburger Zeitung newspaper and numerous books, his exlibris designs are particularly prolific due to the occult and esoteric themes and unusual size. While bookplates are generally reflections of the unique eccentricities of collectors, the occult themes in the art are reflected of the Occult Revival and metaphysical interest in the Art Nouveau periods. There is scarce literature published in English to support any of Frech's individual interest in the occult, however, given the time period and clients, it is possible the commissions were specific. The symbolism in the bookplates range from esoteric, Hermeticism, Eastern philosophies, Mesmerism, and astrology.

Frech died on 27 July 1945 while trying to escape from a camp for displaced Germans near the Austrian town of Steyr. Sadly, many of the books in Dr. Faustus' personal library, assuming with his bookplates were looted and destroyed during World War II.

19. Glanvill, Joseph. Plus Ultra: or, the Progress and Advancement of Knowledge since the Days of Aristotle: In an Account of some of the most Remarkable Late Improvements of Practical, Useful Learning: To Encourage Philosophical Endeavors ... London: Printed for James Collins, 1668. First Edition. Tight, bright, and unmarred. Some minor stains, some repaired (some holes left unrepaired) marginal worm-trails, A6 repaired margin. Rebound in modern paneled calf, gilt spine title. Collation: [â ]2[-1], A-L8, M5 [Lacks imprimatur leaf [2] and ads leaf [M6]]; Pagination: [xxxiv], 8 vo, 149 pages, 5 unnumbered pages. Fine. Full Calf. (#9498) $1,750.00

Joseph Glanvill, also spelled Glanvil, (born 1636, Plymouth, Devon, Eng.—died Nov. 4, 1680, Bath, Somerset) was a writer, philosopher, and clergyman who believed in the delicate marriage of the scientific method, rationalism, and witchcraft. The English self-styled skeptic and apologist for the Royal Society defended the reality of witchcraft and ghosts and the preexistence of the soul. Thereby, according to some, he initiated psychical research. His Plus Ultra or the Progress and Advancement of Knowledge Since the Days of Aristotle (1668) defended the Royal Society's experimental method as religious in nature because it revealed the workings of God. Glanvill's effort to prove scientifically that witches and ghosts exist was viewed as a refutation of atheism. More over, this treatise was a testament for experimental philosopher and achievements of the modern age. The book also incensed much controversy for his radical views on scientific instrumentation, including the microscope, magnetic compass, thermostat, and the printing press, which Glanvill professed as radical vessel for disseminating knowledge and for some, however, a threatening idea. His ideas supported even the research into the supernatural, as science could explain all forms of evidence.

Very Good+. Quarter calf. (#9460) $2,400.00

William Godwin (1756-1836) was the famous radical journalist and author, husband of the feminist Mary Wollstonecraft, father-in-law of Percy Bysshe Shelley, and father of the author of "Frankenstein," Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley. Lives of the Necromancers was the final book written by Godwin and summarizes paranormal legends from western and middle eastern history. Although Scott's "Letters on Demonology and Witchcraft (1830) had prepared the public, Godwin's work was not widely reviewed. A long article, probably by David Brewster, in the "Edinburgh Review" lamented Godwin's failure to furnish 'any clue through the intellectual labyrinth of Necromancy' ... When it appeared in America a year later the master of the occult Edgar Allan Poe, however, took the opportunity in the "Southern Literary Messenger" to say that Godwin's name meant excellence and that his style was finished and graceful. The work was sufficiently in demand to be republished in New York... and in London in 1876." (Marshall). A definitive history of witchcraft and supernatural beliefs respectively, although critical of the Church's proceedings on the treatment of people prosecuted for witchcraft and a rationalist view of necromancy. Extremely scarce small format edition.

Among the dark classics of esoteric witchcraft literature is Mario Guazzo's inquisitor's handbook of 1608, Compendium Maleficarum. In addition to its contributions to the 'sinister traditions' of occult witchcraft, the pages of the book featured highly original woodcuts depicting the witches' Sabbat and magical intercourse between the devil and his adorants. Emerging in one of the darkest periods of religious history, it remains a haunting artifact of both the hatred and phantasmagoric imagination of European Christendom.

Of the Witches Pacts with the Devil is Book 1, chapter 7 from the Montague Summers translation of Compendium Maleficarum, and features five of the original woodcuts. The book is a Three Hands Press exclusive, and is released in conjunction with the art exhibition WITCH-IKON in Seattle, opening October 5.

Scarce Cayme Press edition with intensive notes and introduction by esteemed witchcraft and demonology scholar, Rev. Montague Summers. Includes reprint facsimile of the 17th century treatise by Matthew Hopkins (c. 1620 – 12 August 1647), an English witch-hunter whose career flourished during the English Civil War, and held the self-professed title of "Witchfinder General." He is believed to have been responsible for the deaths of 300 women between the years 1644 and 1646. In fairly normal Montague Summers fashion, he disputes Hopkins' authority of witchcraft and in this discussion, he routinely questions the legitimacy of the methods of drowning, pricking, and other tortuous methods of exposing witchcraft. As there is little known about Hopkins, Summers is unrelenting in his assessment, however, the research is explicit and reveals the level of scholarly aptitude he known for.

2018 FALL OCCULT LIST

Includes detailed listing of the Demons of the Goetia with accompanying sigils. First English language edition of this noted work. "Qabalah, Qliphoth and Goetic Magic is a unique practical introduction to magic. The main thread of the book is the exploration of the Qliphoth and the dark mysteries which have for so long been a repressed part of western esotericism. Instead of ignoring and denying the dark side, the author reveals, step by step, how man can get to know his Shadow and, through this, reach a deeper knowledge of the Self. By exploring and not by repressing the Shadow it can be transformed from a destructive force into a creative power. The book deals with the problem of evil, the symbolism behind the fall of Lucifer and man's creation process according to Qabalistic philosophy. The theories that are presented in this book are also linked to practice. Several examples of rituals, meditations, magical exercises and occult correspondences can be found within. Qabalah, Qliphoth and Goetic Magic contains more than one hundred demonic sigils and pieces of art that were created specifically for this book. A unique collection of all the sigils from the classic grimoires Lemegeton: The Lesser Key of Solomon and the infamous Grimorium Verum are also included. Thomas Karlsson has studied and practiced the occult sciences for more than fifteen years and is the founder of the esoteric order Dragon Rouge." [publisher's statement]

29. Kelm, Dan. Templum Elementorum (Sanctuary of the Elements). Northampton, MA: Dan Kelm, 1994 [2018]. Limited Edition. Bright and unmarred. Complex structure: glass cylinders, six-inch diameter by six and twelve inches high; base, twenty-two-inch diameter materials: paper and paper board; stainless steel wire; brass sheet, channel, and tubing; thread; lead; copper sheet and foil; tin; iron; borosilicate glass; wood; acrylic paint; solder; felt; gold leaf; patina solution; LED light panels; latex saturated felt; acrylic sheet production methods: wire edge binding; sandblasting; patination; stenciling; painting; spattering; gilding; soldering; letterpress and laser printing; laser etching and cutting. np. Illus. Edition of five book sculptures. Fine in Fine Case. (#9530) $17,500.00

The creation of Templum Elementorum (Sanctuary of the Elements) was initiated by an invitation in 1995 to produce a book for the Smithsonian Institution Library exhibition Science and the Artist's Book. Inspired by Biringuccio's De la pirotechnia (On working with fire), first published in 1540, Templum Elementorum is a stylized version of the alchemical furnace known as the Tower of Athanor, as pictured in Biringuccio's book. "Athanor" refers to the "undying" fire which is achieved by the use of the self-feeding fuel hopper at the center of the furnace.

Kelm created a book sculpture comprised of four glass cylinders and metal bindings — one for each of the elements. Together they represent a furnace within which the four alchemical elements are operating — earth bath, water bath, air furnace, and fire box. Colors, symbols, words, and metals contained on the cylinders and in the bindings all correspond to the four elements: Earth, Water, Air, and Fire. The metal bindings open to reveal a pop-up decorated with the symbol for the element to which it corresponds, and contain text panels that carry the "voice" of the alchemical element, for example, "I am Earth. . . ." The metal bindings slide into their glass cylinders and are displayed upright.

The various pieces of the sculpture are housed in a wooden crate and wrapped in cloth the color of which designates its particular element. The four borosilicate glass cylinders sit on a circular eld twenty-two inches in diameter (placed either on a black felt circle or a lit base). The twelve- inch-tall cylinder represents the main fire box, so is located at the center. Surrounding it are the three short cylinders representing (clockwise and evenly spaced) the air bath, water bath, and earth bath. The cylinders contain their corresponding books.

The text is largely based on The Cipher of the Elements by Taz Sibley (used with permission), compiled by Greta Sibley with additional material from Kelm.

The pair of pages revealed on opening one of the books refers to the materials and processes used in fabricating the book sculpture. The alchemical symbols on the left correspond to the English words on the right. earth/terra book: "Sand, Earth, Flux, Borax, Fire" refer to materials and the process used in the making of borosilicate glass — the glass cylinders. The production of the glass is paired with the Earth/Terra book because it is solid in nature, reflecting the character of Earth.

water/aqua book: "Spirit of Copper, Water, Wood, Brass, Copper Splints" refer to the process of patinating the brass covers. Patination is featured in the Water/Aqua book because it is a liquid process.

air/aerbook: "Glass, Aqua Regia, Earth, Pulverize, Air" refer to ways to etch glass (in this case, sand blasting). Sand blasting is paired with the Air/Aer book because it involves propelling solid particles with gaseous Air.

Hint of rubbing to extremities, a few faint pale marks to buckram, and a slight ripple to buckram due to moisture. Page edges slightly foxed, pencil notations and annotations scattered through text. Overall, an outwardly visibly lovely copy. No dust jacket, presumably as issued? Original blind ruled black cloth with gilt titling to spine, bibliography and index. Octavo. 285 pages. Illustrations throughout. Very Good+. Hardcover. (#9535) $225.00

Theda Kenyon, born on September 19, 1894, in New York, enjoyed a long life as a writer and lecturer. Although she was the daughter of an Episcopal priest and theologian, she is best known today for authoring a book on witches. And though her first name is an anagram for "death," she lived for over a century. An underrated, but surprisingly comprehensive and well-researched account. Early witchcraft work authored by a women, which topically is scarce.

Original Wraps. (#9501) $225.00

Cyrus Reed Teed (October 18, 1839 – December 22, 1908) was a U.S. eclectic physician and alchemist turned religious leader and messiah. In 1869, claiming divine inspiration, Teed took on the name Koresh and proposed a new set of scientific and religious ideas he called Koreshanity, including a unique "Hollow Earth" theory that posits the Earth and sky exist inside the inner surface of a sphere.

In the 1870s, Teed founded in New York the Koreshan Unity, a commune whose rule of conduct was based on his teachings. Other similar communities were established in Chicago and San Francisco. After 1894 the group concentrated itself in the small Florida town of Estero, seeking to build a "New Jerusalem" in that locale, peaking at 250 residents during the first decade of the 20th Century. Following Teed's death late in 1908 the group went into decline, finally disappearing in 1961, leaving the Koreshan State Historic Site behind.

In the 'Cellular Cosmogony' Teed propounded that the surface of the earth is concave, not convex, and that the entire universe is contained within the 25,000 mile circumference of the inside-out earth. The Sun is in the exact center of the 'cosmic egg,' 4,000 miles away, and is actually a helix. However we never see this directly, only some kind of reflection of it. The Sun is dark on one side, which produces day and night. The moon is a reflection of the Earth, and Teed believed he could see outlines of the Earth's continents and seas on it! Other astronomical phenomena are essentially optical illusions. Besides geology, he also denounces the scientific method, the Copernican theory, the atomic theory, modern chemistry,

The first edition of this uncommon work by Arnaldo Krumm-Heller (it was later published in German and Spanish). The title translates roughly as "From Incense to Osmotherapies: History and Contributions to a Healing System by Means of Odoriferous Essences." Krumm-Heller was a charismatic figure, founder of the Fraternitas Rosicruciana Antiqua, who had live and travelled in Latin America and sought to fuse local esoteric traditions with those of the West. He was also a student of Theodor Reuss, Papus, and Aleister Crowley. A genuinely rare work, especially so in the attractive original wrappers.

Bound typescript, appears to be a top copy carbon or mimeograph, with the text on the rectos of the pages only. Annotated with corrections. Octavo. 242 unnumbered leaves. Very Good+. Hardcover. (#9533) $950.00

Rare bound typescript manuscript of French occultist and author Eliphas Levi (1810-1875) of "The Great Secret, or Occultism Unveiled." A note bound in at the front indicates that the typescript was copied from the text as published in the journal "The Montana Mason", a Masonic journal that was published in Great Falls, Montana, in the 1920s. The introduction describes the book as "one of the most interesting and deeply philosophical" of Levi's works. The work remained unpublished in manuscript for nearly a quarter of a century after Levi's death, until a French edition with the title "Le Grand arcane ou l'Occultisme dévoile" finally appeared in 1898. It remained unpublished in English until R. J. Lemert, editor of "The Montana Mason," prepared a translation "for the instruction of a few friends, and the latter, regarding it as highly valuable to the student, insisted on its publication" in the journal, and it was then published in parts in the February 1925 and subsequent issues. Curiously no other publication of the work was then undertaken until the Thorsons / Samuel Weiser edition appeared some 50 years later (1975). Unfortunately it is not known who made this typescript, but it was presumably someone who thought the text significant enough that they wanted it in a durable form (and perhaps only had access to borrowed copies of "The Montana Mason", which was scarcely a widely distributed journal). It is similarly without date, but appears to be from the 1930s. The text itself is described in a more recent edition as "Eliphas Levi's final and most important treatise on the occult sciences, in which he examines, magnetism, evil, astral emanations, divination, and creative omnipotence. This bound typescript is obviously unique and significantly predates the first English language publication of the work in book form." Could possibly be another typescript annotated for publication, yet was never seen. Scarce.

Freemason tapestry circa 1940s from a social organization for Master Masons, known as The Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm (M.O.V.P.E.R) founded in 1890, also known as The Grotto. The order was originally called the "Fairchild

The flag bears the image of 8th century Persian mystic Al Mokanna or al-Muqanna (The Veiled One) and prophet, the logo of the order. The image of the bearded man is still used in contemporary iconography. The date of the tapestry appears to be post-1930s, as the font of the "Welcome" text is in Playbill which was not invented until 1938, however, judging from the fabric and condition, the pendant seems like wartime or post-World War 2 synthetic fabric. Vivian Robson is a well-known English astrologer who combined a practical knowledge of mathematics and astronomy with a thorough knowledge of traditional astrology. This is the first volume of Robson's "Astrological Series" covering the Radix system which presumes that the birth horoscope is the root from which everything is based and judged. This copy includes a small collection of manuscript notes by noted Hollywood astrologer, Ralph Emerson Kraum, contemporary of Manly P. Hall, conceived hundreds of charts and fragments of astrological and astronomical calculations for a wide range of historical figures. A small manuscript note indicates Kraum's own natus chart from 1890 in his hand and two annotated leaves with Manly Hall's Naibod tables used in the Radix system. From the library of Joyce Wehrman, a professional astrologer in the San Diego, CA, area who spent years researching successful times for winning at gambling.

47. Ryan, Marah Ellis. The Druid Path; decorated by Will Vreeland. Chicago, IL: A.C. McClurg & Co., 1917. First Edition. Tight, bright, and unmarred, an exceptional copy. Some wear to extremities, however text is clean and unmarked, no evidence of foxing. Dark green pebbled cloth boards with Celtic design on cover and gilt titles, untrimmed edges. Illustration on endpapers of landscape with a Stonehenge-like rock monument. Page headings and some section breaks within each story are also decorated with Celtic designs in green colored ink, taken from the Book of Kells. 8vo, 321 pages with ornamentations. No dustjacket. Very Good+. Hardcover. (#9647) $125.00

Six stories of Ancient Ireland. Music for the book was arranged by Geraldine G. Saltzberg. Marah Ellis Ryan published "The Druid Path" later in her life, after a slew of romantic Western novels of Native American life and romance in the Southwest and Mexico. Although, mainly written for white audiences, Ryan actively supported and advocated for human rights for First Nations, including Hopi and Cherokee tribal bands.

49. Sibly, Ebenezer. A New and Complete Illustration of the Occult Sciences : Or the Art of Foretelling Future Events and Contingencies, By the Aspects, and Influences, of the Heavenly Bodies Founded on Natural Philosophy, Scripture, Reason, and the Mathematics. In Four Parts. Part I. An Enquiry into, and Defense of, Astrology...Part II. Examples for acquiring a Practical Knowledge of Astrology...Part III. Meteorological Astrology defined and explained...Part IV. The Distinction between Astrology and the Diabolical Practice of Exorcism... London: Printed for the author; sold by C. Stalker, c.1790-1792. Revised edition. Tight, bright, and unmarred. Rebound in quarter calf over marbled boards, 1 volume (x; 1126 pages + index) in fine condition. Fresh endpapers, the text and plates are clean, with mild foxing and trimmed edges, a few pages with basic repairs, small tears, otherwise an excellent text block specimen. Large quartos in four 'parts' bound in one volume, 29 unnumbered leaves of plates, each part with individual title pages. Numerous tables, diagrams, and illustrations in text. Text is complete and collated with all plates present. Fine. Quarter calf. (#9548) $7,500.00

Ebenezer Sibly (1751 – c. 1799) was an English physician, astrologer and writer on the occult. He studied amongst other things, medicine, alchemy, and history of witchcraft.

Sibly's 'New And Complete Illustration of the Occult Sciences' is an exceptional work, without a doubt one of the key works on astrology and magic of the period, and one of the earliest significant astrological studies of the American revolution. To say that Sibly was just an occultist and astrologer would be dismissive. The assessments, predictions, and observances are quite scholarly and scientific. He referenced major figures of history including Agrippa, Aristotle, Newton, Paracelsus, Swedenborg, and Culpeper. This set is more scarce than the compiled sets of the 19th century and is complete.

[Collation discussion] Opinions differ, but it seems that the first 'volume' of Sibly's New and Complete Illustration of the Occult Sciences was first published in 1784, with the subsequent volumes printed over the next few years. The volumes went through a number of printings, but as mixed sets were often issued and the individual parts were themselves often 'mixed' (that is made up using sheets from a number of different printings) identification of them is difficult, such as the case with these volumes. The numbering and arrangement of the plates for example is quite erratic.

One reasoning for the aggregation is as follows, these volumes were bound later, however, they were published and issued by Sibly before his death. These states (imprints) are quite rare. The majority of the volumes are issued and compiled posthumously (after 1800). Under variant titles, Sibly discusses details of magical procedure, and an account of the spirit world derived from Reginald Scot, in the 1665 edition of Discoverie of Witchcraft and recollects an encounter with "higher life forms" in Part IV (1122-1123). A strange, wonderful, and comprehension occult tome, and should be regarded as one of the most important occult texts on scientific and medical astrology of the 18th century.

Issued as such: [Part 1, 1790], [Part 2, 1784], [Part 3, 1792], [Part 4, 1791]; includes a "Dedication to the Ancient and Honourable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons," "To the Young Student in Astrology," "Poetical Invocation to Urania," and "The Author's Preface to this New Edition."

Includes the distinguished plates reproduced by magician A.E. Waite in the 19th century: "Signs, Characters, and Magical Knife" and Edward Kelly, a magician in the act of invoking the spirit of a deceased person." Also several pages are annotated with astrological symbols.

Unique. Tight, bright, and unmarred, original handwritten manuscript. Bound in late 19th century half vellum backed marbled boards, title on spine, underlines in red pencil; stamp of "Deutsche Akademie der Wissenschaften zu Berlin, Institut für Deutsche Volkskunde." Some damp wrinkle and staining on rear end paper, otherwise exquisitely scribed on thick, fine paper. 8 vo. 116 pages, [4 blank] with the last pages notes on the text, the latest cited date being 1882. Features fine ink illustration mimicing original woodcut of demon and exorcist on title page. Includes two laid in card catalog entries from the Deutsche Akademie der Wissenschaften zu Berlin, Institut für Deutsche Volkskunde. Very Good+. Hardcover. (#9547) $650.00

2018 FALL OCCULT LIST

A handwritten transcription of the original edition published in 1603 about the Offenburg, Germany (now Baden) witch trials and attempts at exorcism in 1601-1605; reproduction of the woodcut that appears on the title page of the printed edition. Offenburg was notorious for the brutality of its witch trials, including the novel introduction of an iron witch's chair on which a potential witch could be bound and roasted. The first major witchcraft trial in Offenburg was for Elise Gwinner in 1601, but the first recorded in the area was in 1557. The first case in Offenburg, in the existing records, is in August, 1586, when Schwartz Else was accused. She was twice tortured without confession, whereupon the Rath sentenced her to take the Urphede, pay the costs and be banished across the Black Forest [Lea]. Bear in mind that Offenburg was a Reichstadt, a free city, and therefore self-governing — not subject to superior jurisdiction. Its procedure is therefore of interest as typical which is why there is no author attribution to the 1603, 1605 text, as it was probably commissioned by the guild. [Volk]

This is stamped from the collection of Dr. Adolf Spamer, an important German ethnologist and folklore scholar for the Saxony-Baden region. It is speculated this might be a transcription from the scarce 1603 and not from the 1605 edition. Original provenance removed on front papers. Before the manuscript was part of the Spamer collection, there is no tracing of provenance. It is presumed a scholar transcribed the texts from the 1603, 1605 editions held at Karlsruhe (Badische Landesbibliothek, [Baden State Library]) in the late 19th century. The watermark on the thick vellum like paper could hold clues to the origins and the handwriting in hard to distinguish German script. No holdings for any of the printed monographs outside German institutions and only one holding of the original 1603 edition held by the Die Badische Landesbibliothek. Notes at the end of the text indicate the disparity of editions. Rare manuscript from an even more scarce print edition.

51. Spivak, E. Lawrence [publisher]; Anthony Boucher; J. Francis McComas [editors]. Magazine of Fantasy. New York: Mystery House, Inc., Fall 1949. First Edition. Some discoloration, toning on pages, but otherwise in excellent condition. Volume 1, Number 1, Fall 1949. First issue, digest paperback, 128 pp. 5-1/4x7.5" Cover features a Kodachrome printing photograph by Bill Stone and iconic logo by George Salter. Very Good+ in Wraps. Original Wraps. (#9556) $50.00

One of the early science fiction and fantasy speculative fiction magazines to challenge the normalized pulp and action based story lines. Very little to no illustrations, emphasizing the text and content quality of the genre.

Authors include: Theodore Sturgeon, Winona McClintic, H.H. Holmes.

52. Symonds, John. The Great Beast: The Life of Aleister Crowley. London: Rider & Co., 1951. First Edition - First Impression. Tight, bright, and unmarred. Overall a nice copy with slight foxing to endpapers and some lightly toned pages in fair dust jacket. (Dust jacket chipped to all edges and folds, though it is mainly complete and not price clipped). Bound in original blue cloth with gilt title and spine, frontispiece, bibliography and index. Large octavo. 316 pages. Illustrations, photographs. Very Good in Fair Dustjacket. Hardcover. (#9539) $350.00

The first edition of Symond's biography of Crowley (the first of four); the book which introduced the children of the Fifties and Sixties to the Great Beast. Early printings like this include, as an appendix, Gerald Yorke's groundbreaking Bibliography of Crowley. (Symonds met Crowley a year before his death in 1947 and was named his literary executor. He was fascinated yet quite critical of his subject, leading Crowley's personal secretary Israel Regardie to label him "that most hostile biographer"). Includes contemporary Atlantis Bookshop sticker on front pastedown. Scarce with original publisher's dust jacket in decent condition.

53. Teillard, Ania. Spiritual Dimensions. London: Routledge & Kegan, 1961. First English Edition. Page edges a bit darkened, otherwise a tight and unmarred copy. (Dust jacket rear panel a bit rubbed and darkened, edges lightly rubbed, not clipped). Black cloth with gilt title on spine, black and white illustrations. Loosely inserted are two letters; one, a two page type-written draft of a letter to the author from a Mrs. J. H. Kurth of Texas discussing her thoughts on Jung, and the other a two page autograph letter, signed, by Teillard, written in response. Very Good in Very Good Dustjacket. Hardcover. (#9667) $225.00

Ania Teillard [ Anja von Mendelssohn, Ania Adamkiewicz-Mendelssohn ] (1889 -1978 ) was a German psychologist, graphologist and writer, who was much influenced by her study of Carl Jung in Zurich. In this volume the author "makes a comparative study of her own experiences with the descriptions of Emmanuel Swedenborg, Sri Aurobindo and Aldous Huxley."

54. Thacher, James. An Essay on Demonology, Ghosts, and Apparitions, and Popular Superstitions. Also, an Account of the Witchcraft Delusion at Salem, in 1692. Boston, MA: Carter and Hendee, 1831. original spine. Well-worn and dampstained covers, some foxing throughout, otherwise tight, bright, and unmarred, a solid text block with minimal marginalia. Has stamped of previous owner. Page 148-149 shows and includes a laid in clipping, browned pages. Copy shows pencil and penned marginalia with markings and dashes (pages 72, 131, 150). 8vo, iv, 234 pages, with 2 unnumbered pages of advertisement written by James Thacher. Very Good+. Cloth. (#9457) $475.00

According to the advertisement: "The following pages were in substance composed to be read before the Plymouth Lyceum, in 1829. When it was understood that Rev. Charles W. Upham was about to favor the public with a work on the same subject... It is highly probable that we pursue the different tracks." However, Upham encouraged Thacher to publish the book, and in turn, the essay covers some topics extensively, Upham's first book on Salem had not, including ghosts and apparitions. Definitive source on the supernatural and popular superstitions. Uncommon and scarce. Formerly owned by Dr. Harold Bowditch, Harvard medical school faculty, c. late 19th century to 1922, and natural history specialist and from prominent Salem, Massachusetts family.

55. Tudhope, George V. Freemasonry Came to America with Captain John Smith in 1607. Mokelumne Hill, Calif.: Health Research, c.1959. First Edition. In excellent condition, some light foxing, mimeograph [photocopy?] of a self-published typescript, double staple-bound, 13 page manuscript with two foldout inserts in original light green wrappers, illustrations. Very Good+. Original Wraps. (#9357) $45.00

George V. Tudhope was an independent scholar of Freemasonry and Masonic history, who mainly traced the history of Francis Bacon and Freemasonry in early America. Much of his published works are in pamphlet form and were produced around the 1950s. His most prolific book known is "Bacon Masonry" from 1954.

56. Tulien, Hagen von. Occult Psaligraphy: The Hidden Art of Papercutting. Seattle: Ouroboros Press, 2013. First Trade Edition. Tight, bright, and unmarred. High-grade black cotton book-cloth with blind-stamped device to front cover in black-foil stamped dust jacket. Large 8vo, printed in red and black on 100 lb. paper stock. Illus. (Over 100 illus., many being full-page papercuts). This is part of the Artist Edition, enhancing the limited edition of 888 copies. Near Fine. Hardcover. (#9007) $100.00

In Occult Psaligraphy, Von Tulien expresses these magical states in a series of over 100 papercuts. This bilingual text in English and German, includes introductions by the artist and publisher William Kiesel, who speaks to the practice of papercutting in diverse esoteric traditions worldwide, including China, Japan, Mexico, Europe, Indonesia and America.

57. Undi, Sheila. Sublimatas: The First Book of the Xaosis Trilogy [Deluxe Edition]. Verdum, QC: Xaosis, 2013. Limited Edition. Minimal shelf/edge wear, signed by the author, else tight, bright, and unmarred. Full leather binding, in blind lettering and decorative elements, black ribbon bound in. Small 8vo. 263pp. Illus. (b/w plates). Numbered limited edition, this being 5 of 27. Signed "and consecrated" by the author. Near Fine. No DJ, as Issued. Hardcover. (#9094) $750.00

This edition contains an additional chapter on "Daemonic Language", and a number of black & white images, not included in the standard edition. Standard edition was 72 copies and all are out of print. The book deals with Satanic black magic in the gnostic antinomian approach. Exploring, with a reasonably high intellectual level, the nature of dark matter/energy and how they relate to gnostic cosmologies, etc. It takes a rather empirical approach, contextualizing black magic in theory and practice. Undi, following the publication of this book, underwent a transformation and/or breakdown (depending upon who is speaking) and thus this will be the only book to be published of the intended trilogy. While she is not without controversy, there are those who suggest that it is the strength of this work that drove her from its practices. There is some indication that she only signed approximately 10 of the 27 and, further, that at least 4 of the 27 have been burned.

58. Waite, Arthur Edward [author]; Emmett McLoughlin [writer of introduction]. A New Encyclopedia of Freemasonry (Ars Magna Latomorum) and of cognate instituted mysteries: their rites, literature and history with an introduction by Emmett McLoughlin. Two Volumes in One. New York: Weathervane Books, 1970. Combined edition. Tight, bright, and unmarred. Bound in blue cloth with gilt spine titling. In excellent condition with original dust jacket, unclipped, with little wear. 488 pages, 16 unnumbered leaves of plates, illustrations throughout. Very Good in Very Good Dustjacket.. Hardcover. (#9653) $150.00

A comprehensive view of the history, the literature, and the myths concerning Freemasonry, with comprehensive explanations of Masonic rituals and symbolism. Master magician Arthur Waite covers every topic related to the order of Freemasonry from Acacia to Zohar. A necessarily compilation for occult science and esotericism scholars.

59. Waite, Arthur Edward [editor]. The Alchemical Writings of Edward Kelly: Translated from the Hamburg Edition of 1676, and Edited with a Biographical Preface. London: Stuart & Watkins, 1970. Second Impression. Tight, bright, and unmarred. Some fading to dust jacket and wear to extremities. Bound in black buckram with gilt lettering with original unclipped dust jacket. 8 vo., 153 pages. Limited to 500 copies. In protective mylar. Very Good in Very Good Dustjacket. Hardcover. (#9603) $225.00

Arthur Edward Waite (2 October 1857 – 19 May 1942), commonly known as A. E. Waite, was an American-born British poet and scholarly mystic who wrote extensively on occult and esoteric matters. Combines two excellent treatises on the Philosopher's Stone together with the Theatre of Terrestrial Astronomy; Contents: Biographical Preface; The Stone of the Philosophers; Certain Fragments selected from the Letters of Edward Kelly, The Humid Way, or a Discourse upon the Vegetable Menstruum of Saturn; The Theatre of Terrestrial Astronomy by famed English Renaissance occultist and self-declared spirit medium Edward Kelly (Kelley). "He is best known for working with John Dee in his magical investigations. Besides the professed ability to summon spirits or angels in a "shew-stone" or mirror, which John Dee so valued,[3] Kelley also claimed to possess the secret of transmuting base metals into gold, the goal of alchemy, as well as the supposed Philosopher's Stone itself."

Arthur Edward Waite (2 October 1857 – 19 May 1942), commonly known as A. E. Waite, was an American-born British poet and scholarly mystic who wrote extensively on occult and esoteric matters. First published 1894, the "Turba Philosophorum or Assembly of the Alchemical Philosophers," is one of the earliest Latin alchemical texts, probably dating from the 12th century. It introduced many of the key themes of the alchemical tradition and was often quoted in later writings. Originally attributed to Guglielmo Grataroli. This is the Weiser edition.

61. Wisbey, Herbert A., Jr. Pioneer Prophetess: Jemima Wilkinson, the Publick Universal Friend. Ithaca, NY: Cornell University Press, 1964. First Edition. Tight, unmarred, and little wear. Bound in tan cloth boards with blue lettering, with original dustjacket (unclipped), minimal foxing on pages, xiv, 232 pages + illustrations, portraits. inscribed by the author. Dustjacket with some wear and small tear. Very Good in Very Good Dustjacket. Hardcover. (#9635) $35.00

"Jemima Wilkinson (29 November 1758 - July 1, 1819) was a charismatic American Quaker and evangelist, born in Cumberland, Rhode Island to Quaker parents. When suffering from a severe illness and in a fever, she declared she had died and was sent from heaven, reincarnated as a prophet known as the Public Universal Friend, who was neither male nor female. She called herself the Universal Friend and preached the Ten Commandments and sexual abstinence to followers forming what they called the "Society of Universal Friends."

Unconventional and radical, Wilkinson is regarded as one of the first transgender religious voices in Western culture. Herbert A. Wisbey Jr.'s biography is the authoritative account of her life, times, and ideals of both mystery and religious mysticism and fundamental feminism.
